One of my seminary professors had objections to teaching seminary classes online. His conviction was that platforms like Facebook, Zoom, and YouTube could not be used to adequately prepare ministers for such a hand's on job. He used to say, "We will teach preaching online when preachers preach to their congregation online." Well, his words would come back to haunt him, as he is quickly coming around to the online seminary experience. Recently, I was reviewing the online analytics for our worship services. In the past seven days, church content has reached 1,236 people through Facebook. That is something to be excited about and celebrate. Knowing that Third Baptist Church is blessing others in this way is something for us to celebrate.

So, if you have been blessed by our online content, please tell us. Like, share, and comment on the work that staff and volunteers are doing. This lets us know how we are doing, plus it helps us to spread our message to others. In the upcoming weeks, nothing will change regarding our Sunday morning worship services. They will be available on Facebook and on the radio every Sunday morning at 10:45. Online worship services do not replicate gathering in the same space. So, we are excited to be hosting live worship services on Sunday afternoons in October. These gatherings will be outside on the south side of the church building on the Daviess Street side. I look forward to seeing you in the coming days.

Filling an Appalachian Shoebox

1. Use an empty shoebox, sturdy cardboard, or plastic, photo boxes from craft store also work.
2. Determine if the box will go to a boy or girl and what age would be appropriate for the gift. Ages 1 to 18 years. Make a tag to place on top of the box.
3. All items in the box must be NEW. Please no religious items, cash, guns or violent toys.
4. Start with a WOW Item. A wow item is one thing that when the person opens the box they look at that item and say WOW. Example: a soccer ball deflated with a pump and needle enclosed, large stuffed animal, Lego set, action figure,
5. Fill in with smaller items if there is room. Socks, nail polish, shaving items, small cars, hair items, art items, clothing items, toothbrush and toothpaste, small wrapped hard candy (nothing that will melt), school supplies, magic tricks, tiny animals, etc.
6. Return to Third Baptist Church by Oct. 29th.
7. Do not put money in boxes. Donations by check to help cover the cost of shipping is appreciated. If you have questions contact: Janice Raby at 270-683-1602.
