

DAILY PRAYER

(for the week of November 15 - 21)

Master of the Universe, You who charge life with mystery and time with wonder, even while we are awestruck at your grace, we would be amazed and grateful for the gift that is life itself. Savior of the world, you redeem your whole creation, and you rescue us from our bondage to sin and death. You liberate us from our prisons of fear. Lover of my soul, you set before me ways that lead to life; but, again and again, we are drawn to the tragedy of death, to the power of destruction. O let me grasp with confidence the hope of your gospel. Let me sing, with all the earth, the glory of your name. Amen.