Beloved,

We are in changing times and as much as most of us want to get back to "normal," I'm not sure we will ever do things as we did! Our Baptist Convention of Iowa Executive Director/Treasurer, Tim Lubinus, observes the following:

This week I heard that both North Point Community Church with Andy Stanley and The Summit Church with J. D. Greear have decided not to have in-person services for the rest of this year because of the coronavirus pandemic. These two announcements ended any lingering hope I had for a "V-shaped" recovery for the church and a return to normalcy by the time schools start this fall. Seeing megachurches like North Point and The Summit acknowledge they will forego in-person gatherings for the remainder of the year is a tipping point in the church's response to COVID. Whether you accept it or not, the church truly is entering into a "new normal."

As believers in Jesus Christ we are taught to see God's providence in the currents of history, even when the days are difficult. The coronavirus pandemic is especially

Hi Church,

Over the course of the pandemic, we've been having youth group on Zoom. While that's been great, the consensus is that people are ready to get back together. We're going to do what we can to make this as safe as possible, mainly gathering outside and maintaining some distance, but this should still enable us to have some fun while there's still summer to enjoy it.

I'm still working out exactly what, when and where we're going to do this, so stay tuned for more information. To keep up to date with what we're doing, follow @crest_youth on Instagram. Additionally, parents or students can join our Crest Youth Facebook page!

Our college/young adult group is also still meeting. Our group is small enough that we've been meeting at Neal & Beth's house. It's been great just spending time together. If you're a college student or 20-something and you'd like to join us, come on over! You can shoot me an email (neal@crestbaptistchurch.com) if you'd like more information.

The Church Council met in July to consider our next steps in opening our in-person ministries at Crest. At this point it has been the consensus to continue online gathering at least through August and see how things are when school resumes. That also gives us a little more time to get the disinfectant equipment/supplies that have been ordered. come from connecting with other believers. We do need the church—and the church needs us. relevant to a people who call themselves the church, "the gathered ones", when we can't gather together like we used to just a few months ago.

It is easy to offer an opinion on what the future will be like while in the midst of a crisis, but it is extremely difficult to accurately predict the future! The first way to get a handle on the future is to analyze similar events from the past. There have been pandemics throughout history where the church emerged stronger. Sociologist Rodney Stark taught us that famines and epidemics of the earlier times lead to greater church impact as she cared for the abandoned and took the opportunity to proclaim the message of Jesus to a watching world.

I would concur that we will be "doing church" differently, but we still have great opportunities to impact the world for Christ! Let's seek the Creator on ways in which we creatively continue to do ministry. Let's plan as we apply what James said, "If the Lord wills we will live and also do this or that" as the Body of Christ known as Crest Baptist Church. In His love.
