Dads Raise Kids!

“Every father should remember that one day his children will follow his example instead of his advice.”

Rev. Robert E. Harris
Asheville, NC

“Sunday morning services in most American churches are a female thing. The minister and top lay officials may be men (though not as predictably as was the case a few years ago), but the congregation is likely to be mostly women and children.”

“The relevant fact is not so much female ascendancy as male abandonment. In the church, it begins almost as soon as boys have options. At the onset of adolescence, boys begin drifting away from the choir, from Sunday school, and finally, from the church altogether. It’s as though they sense that church is, like school, just another place where male leadership is the exception, and male values are held in low esteem.” William Raspberry

When Harmon Killebrew was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1984, he said, “My father taught my brother and me to play ball in the front yard. One day my mother came out and told him we were ruining the lawn. My father told her, ‘We’re raising kids, not grass.’”

Harmon Killebrew’s father probably didn’t realize that he was making such a profound and powerful statement. He probably didn’t realize the impact his statement had on his young sons. More than likely it wasn’t the words of the statement that made the impact. It was the attitude behind the statement. It was the attitude that his kids were important to him.

Parents, what have you done today – what have you said today that tells your kids that they are important to you? Dads, what are you raising today? Are you raising grass or a job or a reputation or are you raising kids? Perhaps if we spent more time raising our kids, we wouldn’t have to spend so much time worrying about them later.

This Father’s Day, let us remember our fathers and the special place they have in our hearts. And to those who are fathers, remember your solemn and holy task. And let us remember our Heavenly Father who loves us all so very much.

See you Sunday,
Kay

Glad To Be Here!

When the appointments were read at Annual Conference this year, I was so happy to be reappointed to First United Methodist Church Brenham for another year. I have known for some time now that I was going to be reappointed, but it always brings a sense of certainty when the appointments are officially read. I praise God and again I thank you for the privilege of being your pastor for another year. May the Lord bless you and keep you.

Behind the Scenes

Donate Towards Our Lakeview Fund for Summer Camp

We already have 12 kids signed up to go to Lakeview summer camp July 8-12. Some of these youth need financial support to get there. The cost for each camper is $260. We have asked every camper's family who is in need, to pay for some of the cost. If you would like to donate towards this fund please make a note in your memo on your check that says "Lakeview Fund". We really appreciate any kind of contribution. Camp is such a special time for a young person. For many of them this is their first real encounter with the Holy Spirit. I pray that every youth that wants to go...WILL!!

Thanks FUMC!

Dear Friends,

Thank you for all of the calls and cards that you have sent to me, and I especially appreciate your prayers.

Our homebound members and those serving in the military

Dear UMW friends and church members,

The annual UMW fundraiser will be coming up in October, I know this is early but I would like you to be thinking about our Silent Auction and Country Store. Summertime is a great time to be making items for the Country Store and Silent Auction. Tammy Buller is leading the Country Store and I would love to get many interesting items. There is plenty of time to start thinking about donating an item or two for the Silent Auction.

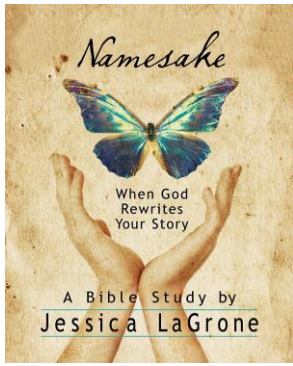

I would like to set some guide lines for items being donated for the Silent Auction. All items must be in very good condition, clean, and no broken parts. Unfortunately last year I had to reject some items that were donated. We always get many interesting items, all kinds of things and I really appreciate every donation. Some suggestions for items would be antiques, quilts, electronics (new or nearly new), gift baskets, art items, dinner for six or eight, dessert for each month, 6 desserts for a year, services, a weekend trip, jewelry, toys, something you think a person would like to purchase. Everyone seems to have such fun in looking and bidding on the Silent Auction. If you have any questions, please call me. I look forward to this year's auction, seeing what great and fun items will be donated. A reminder, all proceeds from the Country Store and Silent Auction goes to charities the UMW Circles decide to donate to.

In Christ we trust,

Deborah Muckleroy
