Pastor's Letter

Greetings Wibaux and Glendive,

As a kid I loved May. We used to take a family camping trip up on the mountain after the snow melted. It was interesting to see what changed after the harsh winter and blizzards. I remember one year seeing where a few trees had fallen near my favorite fishing spot. I had to remind myself that each year brings new changes to the wilderness—and our lives as well. Each new spring gives us ways to grow in life!

For example, the rummage sale is back and is something to look forward to! It's that time of the year again where our wonderful ladies work extra hard to help support our ministries and keep our church alive. Each year comes with new changes and growth for it as well.

This spring, I'm doing something new myself. I've been doing this series on Roots, a John Wesley series on his traditions that shape our faith. I asked myself, most people in the congregation grew up in the United Methodist tradition, so am I really offering or teaching them anything new?

But I needed to remind myself, "You will always learn something new as you study it yourself." The truth is you never outgrow learning, even the ones in the pews that have been there for one year or fifty years.

It reminds me of 2 Corinthians 5:17: "If anyone in Christ, the new creation has come: The old has gone, the new is here!" God is constantly working in our lives, helping us grow, learn, and become better than we were before.

Just like the mountain in spring, we may see fallen trees in our lives or in our church. Some things will never look the same. But God is not finished. He has a plan. He will bring new life, new growth, and new meaning again.

A strong verse I want you to reflect on and pray about this month is Isaiah 43:19: "See, I am doing a new thing! Now it springs up; do you not perceive it?"

God is still at work among us.

Blessings,
Pastor Phillip

Big Horn District United Women in Faith

Big Horn District United Women in Faith held a spring meeting on Sat April 25 in Cody, Wyoming. Glendive members, Twylla McPherson, Andrine Haas, and Millie Robinson attended. The theme was "What's Blooming in Your Bible?" Attendees brought shared Bibles special to them. Our speaker talked about using the Bible to enhance our spiritual growth and suggested ways and resources to do so. The meeting was attended by about 40 women. Cody members were joined by women from such places as Havre, Helena, Lewistown, Billings, Miles City, Glendive. Fortunately we all had a window of good weather between storms and enjoyed a lovely day in Cody and beautiful scenery!
